Hand Crafted Tiles

A close-up photograph of handcrafted tiles. The tiles are primarily square and rectangular, with a warm, earthy color palette ranging from light beige to golden-brown. One tile in the center is a smaller, dark grey square, serving as a decorative accent. The tiles have a slightly textured, natural stone appearance.

Counter Tops

A photograph of a white ceramic sink set on a countertop. The countertop is made of a light-colored material, possibly granite or quartz, with a speckled pattern of small, dark and light-colored flecks. The sink is a simple, white, drop-in style.
